“LetterWinners of Distinction”

Twenty Seventh Annual Awards Banquet

Friday, September 20, 1991
Manley Field House
Syracuse, New York
Welcome

Welcome to everyone here tonight. We hope you enjoy this evening and Varsity Club Weekend.

The Varsity Club of Syracuse University has been in existence since 1934. It is an exclusive, viable organization which serves to enhance the athletic programs and promote the general welfare of Syracuse University.

In addition the Varsity Club strives to build interest, support and loyalty to SU athletics among all alumni and friends. The membership consists of men and women alumni who were awarded varsity letters as undergraduates at the University.

There is a natural spirit of comradeship among athletes who have shared in the winning or losing of athletic contests for Syracuse University. Pride in the game itself, pride in the University and a personal pride in having made a contribution to its athletic prowess is the adhesive that binds together in fellowship the members of the Varsity Club. The club works to keep this spirit of comradeship and loyalty alive to the everlasting benefit of the Alma Mater.

The LetterWinner of Distinction Awards and Dinner was started in 1965. It is an extremely popular and successful occasion. The awards are presented to Varsity Club members who were elected by their fellow members. To be eligible, candidates must have completed their education at Syracuse University at least 20 years ago, must have earned at least one varsity letter and must have gained distinction in their respective careers and communities. They should have brought honor to themselves and the University. Their loyalty, respect and contributions to Alma Mater should have been exemplary.

Through the years many great Varsity Club members have become recipients of this award. Additionally some outstanding non-letterwinners have been given honorary awards. Tonight we are pleased to add to our ranks the illustrious people we are honoring.

This is the 27th annual LetterWinner of Distinction Awards Banquet and each has been unique and very enjoyable. This prestigious affair will continue to proudly recognize the “loyal sons and daughters of Syracuse.”

This year all SU team members whose seasons ended in the number “1” (years 1931, 1941, 1951, 1961, 1971, 1981) received special invitations for team reunions. A good number of those teammates are on campus for Varsity Club Weekend.

Our congratulations and best wishes to all.

LetterWinner of Distinction Award History

In the early 1960s, a group of Varsity Club directors led by Executive Secretary Charles A. Lee, Jr. decided to give an annual award to Syracuse University varsity letter winners who had received their degrees at least 20 years earlier and “who since leaving the University have gained distinction in their community or profession and brought honor to themselves and to the University.”

The first LetterWinner of Distinction Awards Dinner was held in the Hotel Syracuse on October 15, 1965. J. Clinton Loucks was Varsity Club president; Harry Marley was committee chairman. They were assisted by 18 other officers and directors, several of whom are with us tonight.

The six men honored were selected by vote of the Varsity Club membership. They were: Gordon D. Hoople, a crew letter winner who became a physician and surgeon, serving in both World Wars; Lewis P. Andreas, who lettered in football and baseball and coached football and basketball at Syracuse University, later becoming director of athletics; Arnold M. Grant, a Manhattan lawyer who lettered in swimming and water polo; Earle J. Machold, a baseball letter winner, chief executive officer of the Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation, and a Syracuse University trustee; Victor A. Hanson, a football, basketball and baseball great, and later head football coach at Syracuse University; and John T. Connor, United States Secretary of Commerce who lettered in football.

In 1969, Chancellor Emeritus William Pearson Tolley was named the first honorary LetterWinner of Distinction. In 1970 an honorary award was made to Dr. George L. Manley, for whom Manley Field House was named. Also that year, a special award was presented to Roy D. Simmons, Sr., a 1966 honoree with letters in football, lacrosse and boxing who later coached all three sports at Syracuse University. In 1971 an honorary award was presented to Crandall Melvin, Sr., a Syracuse banker and long time friend of Syracuse University athletics. Some other special people who were presented honorary awards were Ben Schwartzwalder, Jim Decker, Horace Landry, Mel Holm, Chancellor Melvin Eggers, Father Charles Borgognoni, May Crandon and Coach Tom Keane.

The format of six or seven honorees each year and on occasion, honorary or special awards, has continued. The first women’s award came in 1986 presented to golfer Virginia Guilfoil Allen. Counting tonight’s honorees, there has been a total of 179 awards to SU varsity letter winners and 19 honorary awards.

The officers and board of directors of the Varsity Club of Syracuse University are proud and pleased to honor tonight’s recipients with the prestigious “LetterWinner of Distinction” Award. These honorees were elected by the active members of the Varsity Club of SU.

Past LetterWinners of Distinction are listed in this program.

M.D. School of Medicine 1930
Internship, St. Joseph’s Hospital, 1930-1931

Dr. Delmonico practiced medicine privately in Syracuse before entering his fellowship program at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, MN. Upon completion of his fellowship, he obtained a master’s degree in anesthesia from the University of Minnesota. His four-year anesthesia training was supervised by the famous Mayo brothers, after whom the clinic was founded. Dr. Delmonico’s thesis on sodium pentothal as a possible use for anesthesia is used as reference material today in medical textbooks. Dr. Charles Mayo and Dr. Delmonico administered the first injections of sodium pentothal for research purposes.

In September 1942, Dr. Delmonico enlisted in the U.S. Navy and was stationed in the South Pacific with Halsey’s 7th Fleet aboard the U.S.S. Bountiful Hospital ship. Prior to departure to the south Pacific, Dr. Delmonico supervised the successful evacuation of women and children from Pearl Harbor to the mainland. He received an honorable discharge as commander in 1946.

Upon his return to Syracuse, Dr. Delmonico became the first board certified anesthesiologist to practice in this area. He was a staff member at St. Joseph’s Hospital, The Hospital of the Good Shepherd and Crouse Irving Memorial Hospital. His last staff position was chief of anesthesia for Crouse Irving Memorial Hospital until his retirement in 1974 at the age of 70.

During his years of private practice, Dr. Delmonico administered anesthetics for orthopedic injuries to athletes at Syracuse University. Working closely with Dr. Charles Heck, he set fractured bones for football players.

Dr. Delmonico was an avid supporter of SU football, both as a contributor to the program and as a volunteer in the promotion of the football season each year. During the 1959 national championship season, Dr. Delmonico accompanied the football team on the road and did not miss a game. He became a staunch supporter of the SU Orange Pack after its founding in 1974. For many years, he was a member of the Varsity Club and the Touchdown Club, a predecessor to the SU Orange Pack.

Dr. Delmonico’s wife Margaret of Fayetteville died in June. Two daughters, Susan Ross of Camillus and Linda Reagan of Bedford, New Hampshire, and six grandchildren survive.

Currently he is a life trustee of Baystate Medical Center; a life trustee and executive committee member of public station WGBY-TV in Springfield; a trustee of public station WGBH-TV in Boston; a director of Monarch Capital Corporation; and regional chairman of the National Holocaust Museum Fund Drive. Maury has been honored by the Jewish Community Council and the American Metal Importers Association for outstanding service. He received the Outstanding Citizen Award from B'nai B'rith in 1977 and an honorary doctor of humane letters from Western New England College in 1983.

Maury has been involved with the SU football program for almost three decades. He and his brother Si worked closely with Coach Ben Schwartzwalder and his staff, rendering a number of volunteer services. He continued this close association with Coach Dick MacPherson. Maury has remained most loyal to his "adopted alma mater." Recently Maury made a significant contribution to the Colvin Park/Manley Field House Project which included a new, lighted football practice field named for him because of his loyalty, support and dedication.

Alma Mater

Where the vale of Onondaga meets the eastern sky,
Proudly stands our Alma Mater on her hilltop high.
Flag we love, Orange,
Float for aye,
Old Syracuse o'er thee!
Loyal be thy sons and daughters
To thy memory.

When the evening twilight deepens and the shadows fall,
Linger long the golden sunbeams on the western wall.
Flag we love, Orange,
Float for aye,
Old Syracuse o'er thee!
Loyal be thy sons and daughters
To thy memory.

When the shades of life shall gather; dark the heart may be,
Still the ray of youth and love shall linger long o'er thee.
Flag we love, Orange,
Float for aye,
Old Syracuse o'er thee!
Loyal be thy sons and daughters
To thy memory.
